You can talk back to your brain. Talk back to your bad thoughts and tell them they're wrong. Not every bad thought is a reality. Also, bad days are okay. Bad day does not equal a bad life.

"Do what you love" is bullshit for most of us. Do something you like and that provides you with the conditions to do what you love on your free time.

I would advise myself to take right decisions,I would advise to spend as much as time with my family/friends.

Everyone make mistakes in life so am I.But 2021 was worst year for me.The wrong decisions which i took in the past and mistakes which i did until now is nothing compare to this year.

I did lot of mistakes.

I took lot of bad decisions.

I lost my closed ones this year.

I cried a lot.

I overthought a lot.

but I learnt a lot.

I know,I can't change the things now which are already happened but I have realised one thing.I have became more stronger than before.

Bad phases of life teaches you more lessons than good one and we becomes more stronger.
